HOUSE STILL DEADLOCKED ON THE SPEAKER

SECOND DAY OF CONGRESSIONAL BATTLE IS ON

NO FIERY SPEECHES HEARD AS IN THE DAYS OF CANNON, ONLY BALLOTING

NO SIGN OF WEAKENING IS APPARENT ON EITHER SIDE IN THE CONTEST

(By United Press)

Congress Today; Situation Unchanged

The senate plans to meet and adjourn until the house is organized. Teapot Dome investigation continues.

The house continues efforts to elect a speaker.

Washington, Dec. 4.—House republicans today entered the second day of the congressional battle since the fight on "Cannonism." The spectacular features of the fight which ended in Speaker Cannon being shorn of his autocratic powers were lacking, however.

There were no fiery speeches. The program was to take ballot after ballot for speaker unil one side surrendered.

But there was no signs of weakening on either side. Heartened by their practical victory over the administration forces in four battles yesterday, progressive leaders announced today they intended holding the house in a deadlock indefinitely unless administration leaders consent to scrapping the "gag rule."

While considering the progressives have power to make good their threat Republican Leader Longworth still refused to recognize the bloc or to make any concessions. None will be made, he declared.

BROACH BILL FOR ELECTING FEDERAL JUDGES

Washington, Dec. 4.—The wave of sentiment of members in congress by the Craig contempt case crystalized today in a decision by the progressive group to introduce a bill in the senate for election of federal judges.

This bill will be the foundation upon which the progressive program for liberalization of the federal courts will be based.

Federal judges now are appointed by the president with the confirmation of the senate. The progressives feel in proposing the popular election of these judges that the courts will be made sensitive to public opinion and the expressed will of the people.

In addition the progressive group will boost the bill of Representative Stengel, New York, providing specifically for the liberalization of the present contempt laws.

The position of Attorney General Daugherty in denouncing Craig for criticising a federal court decision drew some members of both houses of congress today.

"Any person with all due respect to the court should have a full right to criticise any decision of the court in an honorable way," Senator Magnus Johnson, new progressive from Minnesota, today declared in a statement to the United Press on the Craig case.

"Judges are human.

"I realize that the judges of the supreme court even are approached by the party in power and that if that party is in power for a long time there may be the tendency to lean to one side. I believe in free speech and I think any man should be unhampered within the specifications of the constitution of the United States."

The Stengel bill which is to be introduced as soon as the house organizes would prevent any judges from passing sentence in a contempt case where the action did not occur in his presence.

This would enable, backers of the bill believe, anyone to express an opinion regarding a decision and would prevent judges from jailing any person who took issue with the correctness of their decision.

All progressives in both houses of congress expressed themselves strongly in favor of modification of the present law.

SEEK LIBERALIZATION OF HOUSE RULES

Washington, Dec. 4.—A coalition of progressives and democrats to force liberalization of the house rules was in prospect today as the house met on the second day of its attempt to organize.

Representative Nelson, leader of the house progressives, conferred with Representative Garrett, democratic leader to agree upon a program of rule revision which both could support.

Democratic members in general favor the same amendments for which the progressives are fighting. Nelson had announced earlier in the day that he wanted the revision to be enacted by the republican party and that they had entered into a coalition with the democratic party only as a last resort.

It was indicated just before the house met, however, that the progressive group had already decided to accept the support of the democratic votes in securing the rule revision.

When the house convened at noon today the clerk proceeded immediately to call the roll for the fifth time in an attempt to elect a speaker.

As the balloting went on it became evident there was to be little change in the lineup which produced a deadlock yesterday.

The senate held a two minute session. As soon as the chaplain had concluded a brief prayer, Senator Curtis, republican whip, moved that the formal reading of the minutes of the previous session be dispensed with.

Then Curtis moved that the senate adjourn until tomorrow.

The republican leaders went over to the house side of the capitol to use their influence in an attempt to break the deadlock there.

While the house was taking its first ballot of the day, it was stated at the White House on behalf of Mr. Coolidge that his information lead him to believe that the house would be organized some time today. If that occurs Mr. Coolidge, it was stated, hopes to be able to deliver his message to congress Wednesday. He will not go to congress, however, until officially informed by a committee that congress is ready to hear him.

The result of the house's first ballot today showed no appreciable change in the deadlock. The vote stood: Gillette, 197; Garrett, 197; Cooper, 17; Madden, 5.

Present and not voting, 3.

With a total of 416 voting, it requires 209 to elect. The clerk ordered another ballot.

HOW SECOND BALLOT STOOD

The second ballot today, the sixth time since the balloting began showed no change other than to give the democratic candidate a two vote lead. Gillette, 195; Garrett, 197; Cooper, 17; Madden, 5. Present and not voting, 3.

Total votes cast, 414. With 208 required to elect there was no choice and another roll call was ordered.

RESULTS OF THE SEVENTH BALLOT

Today's balloting, the seventh so far showed: Gillette, 196; Garrett, 198; Cooper, 17; Madden, 5. Present and not voting, 3. Total votes cast, 416. The eighth ballot immediately began.

As the clerk started calling the roll for the seventh ballot, the house members apparently settled for a steady grind. Members lolled about the lobbies or went to lunch only coming in to cast their votes.

During the calling of the roll for the eighth ballot, Representative Longworth, republican leader, announced he would abandon hopes of getting anywhere today and that he would ask for an adjournment if the eighth ballot did not show an election.

Longworth said he would then issue a statement outlining his position.

SPECIAL COMMISSION REPORTS ON SALE OF MORSE HOME TO VETERANS BUREAU

PRICE OF EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, MO., PROPERTY WAS GIVEN AS $116,000

(By United Press)

Excelsior Springs, Mo., Dec. 4.—Sale of the E. L. Morse home here to the Veterans Bureau for $116,000 was approved by the special re-apportionment commission today.

The deal was re-figured in the congressional investigation of conduct of the bureau under Colonel Charles R. Forbes, the government contending the property was worth only about $40,000. At Morse's request a non-partisan commission was named to investigate the value of the property.

After hearing witnesses, the commission unanimously decided the sale price was fair and then recommended that the contract remain unchanged.

The commission composed of William C. Irvin, A. H. Conklin, assistant director of the veterans bureau and Jones Parker of St. Louis, said in its report:

"The whole transaction was above suspicion of fraud.

"It is abundantly proven by a preponderance of evidence that the property acquired by this purchase was at the date of purchase of a reasonable cash value in excess of the amount paid."

COOLIDGE PARDONS N. Y. COMPTROLLER

PRESIDENT'S ACTION BASED ON NECESSITY OF KEEPING CRAIG AT HIS POST

Washington, Dec. 4.—Executive clemency was granted yesterday by President Coolidge to Comptroller Craig of New York, sentenced to jail for contempt of court.

A remission of sentence was granted by the president on the recommendation of Attorney General H. M. Daugherty. At the same time the president expressed in a statement to be made public later in his condemnation of the comptroller's conduct in criticising the federal courts in New York.

President Coolidge's action was based solely on the public necessity of keeping Craig at his post as comptroller.

IMMIGRANT HEARD 'WE HAD NO BANANAS' SO HE BROUGHT SOME

Providence, R. I., Dec. 4.—"But there are no bananas in America except mine," protested George Gomez, staggering clear of two enormous bunches of the green fruit which had impeded his progress from the deck of the Fabre liner Brittaunia to the state pier.

George said that everywhere in Lisbon he had heard America's lament about the banana shortage, and being an honest fellow had thought to turn an honest penny here by investing a small fortune in the fruit ere he quit his native land for the United States. Despite the mirth excited by his appearance with the bananas, George refused to believe that his financial coup would not be entirely successful.

MINNESOTA'S NEW SENATORS SWORN IN

BROOKHART ACTS AS SPONSOR FOR SHIPSTEAD—BOTH WILL SIT WITH G. O. P.

Washington, Dec. 4—Henrik Shipstead and Magnus Johnson, the first farmer-labor party men to take their seats in the United States senate, were sworn in yesterday immediately after the opening of the session.

The two new men from Minnesota were cynosures of all eyes from the gallery. A number of their friends were on hand to witness the spectacle.

Ordinarily a new senator is presented by his colleague, but both Minnesota men being new, it was necessary for Senator Shipstead to get a sponsor from another state. Robert M. LaFollette being ill, he selected Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa, who escorted the Minnesota men up the aisle. After the new senators chosen in 1922 had taken the oath, the three chosen at special elections this year were presented. Senator Shipstead did another march up the aisle, this time escorting his junior colleague, Magnus Johnson.

After the oaths had been administered the Minnesota senators took the seats assigned to them, on the republican side of the chamber.

Senator Shipstead formally announced the death of Senator Knute Nelson and said that at a later date he would ask that the senate pay a fitting tribute to the memory of the veteran. He presented a resolution expressing the profound sorrow of the senate in the death of Senator Nelson.

QVALE AND WEFALD SEATED WITH G. O. P.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Representative O. J. Qvale of the seventh district, independent, and Knud Wefald of the ninth district of Minnesota, farmer-labor member of the house, took seats on the republican side of the chamber which is taken as an indication that they will affiliate with members of that party. Both the new members, however, have joined the La Follette followers in the house and will stand with that group on legislative questions and in fighting for a change in the rules. All the members of the delegation were present when the roll was called.

DASH TO NORTH POLE BY PLANE OF U. S. NAVY

PRESIDENT, SAYS SECRETARY DENBY, HAS GIVEN APPROVAL TO THE PLANS

ROUTE, DATE AND METHOD OF PROCEDURE FOR TRIP UNDECIDED ON

Washington, Dec. 4.—A dash by air for the North pole will be launched by the navy department during the coming summer.

Secretary Denby announced that President Coolidge had given his specific approval to the project as "of great practical value."

The route, date and method of procedure for the trip, however, are still to be decided, a special board of naval officers headed by Rear Admiral W. A. Moffett, chief of naval aeronautics, having been appointed by Secretary Denby to prepare a detailed plan.

Bartlett Planned Trip

The project grew out of the desire of Robert A. Bartlett, explorer, who sailed with Rear Admiral Robert E. Perry in the steamer Roosevelt on the expedition of 1908-1909, which saw the Stars and Stripes raised over the North pole, again to make that journey. Mr. Bartlett proposed to Secretary Denby months ago that the Roosevelt, now in commercial service, be purchased and equipped for polar work.

Wants To Be First

Discussion of the possibilities of a new polar expedition was immediately begun in the navy department. It was pointed out by naval aircraft experts, however, that if a new "drifting" expedition were organized by the navy, others, perhaps under another flag, might attempt and complete a journey to the pole by air before the Roosevelt party could make half the distance. The decision to employ naval aircraft followed.

Appointed Recorder

Mr. Bartlett, who is a lieutenant commander in the naval reserve force, for the purpose of the polar expedition, has already been called to active service in that rank and appointed to the special planning board of which he will also be recorder.

Admiral Moffett's board has at its disposal all the government's records of previous Arctic explorations. On the study of this data, as well as records of weather conditions in the arctic, will be founded a recommendation as to whether last laps of the journey shall be undertaken in airplanes equipped with skis for landing on the ice, or with the great navy dirigible Shenandoah.

CHARCOAL "GAS" TEST SUCCESSFUL

USED IN BERLIN BUSSES WITHOUT CARBURETOR—MOTORS RUN MORE SMOOTHLY

Berlin, Dec. 4.—Revolutionary experiments in the operation of medium duty gasoline engines have been carried out on the city auto busses of Berlin, when ordinary gasoline motors of a type used on heavy trucks were operated on gas produced by burning charcoal with amazing success.

Beside the chauffeur was placed a steel cylinder two feet in diameter and four feet high, almost entirely filled with burning charcoal. The gas produced by combustion led directly through a big feed pipe into the cylinders without a carburetor or other mixing valve. It produced full power over a long period of tests.

One filling of the charcoal stove lasted seven hours on a motor rated as 40 horsepower, which was in contiuous operation on the bus line, carrying the heaviest traffic of the city.

Engineers of the auto bus company said that the motor ran more smoothly in cold weather with charcoal than with gasoline and that it produced far more even flow of power, sufficient to handle varying loads over seven hours of continuous operation.

Besides being much more economical than gasoline, which costs 75 cents a gallon here, it produced far less odor than the mixture of gasoline and heavier oil which is being used on the bus lines. No smoke or poisonous fumes were thrown off, which adds greatly to the comfort of the passengers and pedestrians.

CITY OF BROTHERLY LOVE HOUSES A LOT OF POISON LIQUOR

(By United Press)

Philadelphia, Dec. 4.—More than 800 persons have been killed directly or indirectly by poison liquor since January 1, 1923, according to Frank Paul, special investigator for the coroner's office.

"That 800 deaths have been caused so far this year by poison liquor is putting it mildly," Paul said today.

"That many cases have come to the attention of the coroner's office and we have no way of telling how many persons succumbed to illness caused by liquor who were treated by private physicians."

FORCES OF GOV. McMASTER WIN FIRST CLASH WITH SEN. THOS. STERLING

TOOK THREE ROLL CALLS TO ASCERTAIN THE VOTE OF THE CONVENTION

D. D. MEREDITH
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Pierre, S. D., Dec. 4.—Three majority and three minority slates will come out of the three state political conventions today. This was apparent as delegates were called to order at the capitol at 11 a. m.

The republicans met in the house chamber, the democrats in the senate chamber and the farmer-labor delegates in the supreme court chamber. The latter will adjourn to the Locke Hotel.

Platforms, paramount issues and mottoes of the three conventions followed proceedings.

The proposed republican slate includes:

Hiram Johnson for president, W. H. McMaster or Thomas Sterling for senator, Carl Gunderson or W. O. Knight for governor. Supporters of McMaster and Gunderson were confident of victory. Fusion of the democratic and farmer-laborites seemed impossible. It was apparent both parties would have majority and minority slates.

All factions of the democrats however, appeared to be on one mind as to endorsing William G. McAdoo for president. First ballots will show a considerable bloc for Henry Ford and it is possible Ford may be carried on a minority ticket. The McAdoo strength, however, seems overwhelming.

REPORT ON REPUBLICAN CONVENTION GIVEN

The forces of Governor W. H. McMaster won the first crash with United States Senator Thomas Sterling today when Harlan Bushfield, Hand county, was elected chairman of the republican convention by less than 200 votes.

E. O. Srefcoln, Tripp county, reported the forces of Senator Sterling received 38,684 votes and Bushfield, 38,805.

The tellers had difficulty counting the votes under the peculiar voting system and took one complete roll call, started another and completed a third before the vote was known.

In the democratic convention John P. Hefferson of Deadwood was elected chairman and it looked as if opposition to the McAdoo-Gunderson forces would subside.

Ridgefield, N. J., Dec. 4.—Burton S. Tucker, aged 16, of Salem, Mass., and his 50 year old bride, formerly Mrs. Susan O. Joseph Tucker, postmaster of Salem, the boy's father, has sought the aid of prosecutor of Hudson county, New Jersey, not only to have the marriage annulled, but also to prosecute persons alleged to have entered into a conspiracy to fraudulently obtain a marriage license.

"I hope to present the facts to the judge by the middle of next week," Aloysius Mahon, assistant prosecutor, said at Jersey City. "If this woman and this boy are guilty of perjury in this state, both will be punished."

ROUTE, DATE AND METHOD OF PROCEDURE FOR TRIP UNDECIDED ON

Washington, Dec. 4.—A dashly air for the North pole will be launched by the navy department during the coming summer.

Secretary Denby announced that President Coolidge had given his specific approval to the project as "of great practical value."

The route, date and method of procedure for the trip, however, are still to be decided, a special board of naval officers headed by Rear Admiral W. A. Moffett, chief of naval aeronautics, having been appointed by Secretary Denby to prepare a detailed plan.

Bartlett Planned Trip

The project grew out of the desire of Robert A. Bartlett, explorer, who sailed with Rear Admiral Robert E. Perry in the steamer Roosevelt on the expedition of 1908-1909, which saw the Stars and Stripes raised over the North pole, again to make that journey. Mr. Bartlett proposed to Secretary Denby months ago that the Roosevelt, now in commercial service, be purchased and equipped for polar work.

Wants To Be First

Discussion of the possibilities of a new polar expedition was immediately begun in the navy department. It was pointed out by naval aircraft experts, however, that if a new "drifting" expedition were organized by the navy, others, perhaps under another flag, might attempt and complete a journey to the pole by air before the Roosevelt party could make half the distance. The decision to employ naval aircraft followed.

Appointed Recorder

Mr. Bartlett, who is a lieutenant commander in the naval reserve force, for the purpose of the polar expedition, has already been called to active service in that rank and appointed to the special planning board of which he will also be recorder.

Admiral Moffett's board has at its disposal all the government's records of previous Arctic explorations. On the study of this data, as well as records of weather conditions in the arctic, will be founded a recommendation as to whether last laps of the journey shall be undertaken in airplanes equipped with skis for landing on the ice, or with the great navy dirigible Shenandoah.

CHARCOAL "GAS" TEST SUCCESSFUL

USED IN BERLIN BUSSES WITHOUT CARBURETOR—MOTORS RUN MORE SMOOTHLY

Berlin, Dec. 4.—Revolutionary experiments in the operation of medium duty gasoline engines have been carried out on the city auto busses of Berlin, when ordinary gasoline motors of a type used on heavy trucks were operated on gas produced by burning charcoal with amazing success.

Beside the chauffeur was placed a steel cylinder two feet in diameter and four feet high, almost entirely filled with burning charcoal. The gas produced by combustion led directly through a big feed pipe into the cylinders without a carburetor or other mixing valve. It produced full power over a long period of tests.

One filling of the charcoal stove lasted seven hours on a motor rated as 40 horsepower, which was in contiuous operation on the bus line, carrying the heaviest traffic of the city.

Engineers of the auto bus company said that the motor ran more smoothly in cold weather with charcoal than with gasoline and that it produced far more even flow of power, sufficient to handle varying loads over seven hours of continuous operation.

Besides being much more economical than gasoline, which costs 75 cents a gallon here, it produced far less odor than the mixture of gasoline and heavier oil which is being used on the bus lines. No smoke or poisonous fumes were thrown off, which adds greatly to the comfort of the passengers and pedestrians.

CITY OF BROTHERLY LOVE HOUSES A LOT OF POISON LIQUOR

(By United Press)

Philadelphia, Dec. 4.—More than 800 persons have been killed directly or indirectly by poison liquor since January 1, 1923, according to Frank Paul, special investigator for the coroner's office.

"That 800 deaths have been caused so far this year by poison liquor is putting it mildly," Paul said today.

"That many cases have come to the attention of the coroner's office and we have no way of telling how many persons succumbed to illness caused by liquor who were treated by private physcilans."

FORCES OF GOV. McMASTER WIN FIRST CLASH WITH SEN. THOS. STERLING

TOOK THREE ROLL CALLS TO ASCERTAIN THE VOTE OF THE CONVENTION

D. D. MEREDITH
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Pierre, S. D., Dec. 4.—Three majority and three minority slates will come out of the three state political conventions today. This was apparent as delegates were called to order at the capitol at 11 a. m.

The republicans met in the house chamber, the democrats in the senate chamber and the farmer-labor delegates in the supreme court chamber. The latter will adjourn to the Locke Hotel.

Platforms, paramount issues and mottoes of the three conventions followed proceedings.

The proposed republican slate includes:

Hiram Johnson for president, W. H. McMaster or Thomas Sterling for senator, Carl Gunderson or W. O. Knight for governor. Supporters of McMaster and Gunderson were confident of victory. Fusion of the democratic and farmer-laborites seemed impossible. It was apparent both parties would have majority and minority slates.

All factions of the democrats however, appeared to be on one mind as to endorsing William G. McAdoo for president. First ballots will show a considerable bloc for Henry Ford and it is possible Ford may be carried on a minority ticket. The McAdoo strength, however, seems overwhelming.

REPORT ON REPUBLICAN CONVENTION GIVEN

The forces of Governor W. H. McMaster won the first crash with United States Senator Thomas Sterling today when Harlan Bushfield, Hand county, was elected chairman of the republican convention by less than 200 votes.

E. O. Srefcoln, Tripp county, reported the forces of Senator Sterling received 38,684 votes and Bushfield, 38,805.

The tellers had difficulty counting the votes under the peculiar voting system and took one complete roll call, started another and completed a third before the vote was known.

In the democratic convention John P. Hefferson of Deadwood was elected chairman and it looked as if opposition to the McAdoo-Gunderson forces would subside.

Threats Bother Not Happy Bride of 50 And Bridegroom, 16

Ridgefield, N. J., Dec. 4.—Burton S. Tucker, aged 16, of Salem, Mass., and his 50 year old bride, formerly Mrs. Susan O. Simpson, owner of the Hotel Pasadena in New York city, are living happily at South Ridgefield park, apparently oblivious to the threats of the young husband's parents to have the marriage annulled.

Joseph Tucker, postmaster of Salem, the boy's father, has sought the aid of prosecutor of Hudson county, New Jersey, not only to have the marriage annulled, but also to prosecute persons alleged to have entered into a conspiracy to fraudulently obtain a marriage license.

"I hope to present the facts to the judge by the middle of next week," Aloysius Mahon, assistant prosecutor, said at Jersey City. "If this woman and this boy are guilty of perjury in this state, both will be punished."

SENTENCE IS IMPOSED

Otto Bjorklund, of Crosby, Found Guilty of Driving Automobile While Intoxicated

The jury in the case of the state against Olaf Fahlstrom, tried in district court on Monday, returned a verdict finding the defendant guilty as charged in the indictment. C. S. Mitchell was foreman.

Fahlstrom was charged with the sale of intoxicating liquor. Hilding Swanson, of Swanson and Swanson, was his attorney. County Attorney Walter F. Wieland prosecuted the case.

The court sentenced Fahlstrom to pay a fine of $300 and to be committed to the county jail for 90 days, with 90 days additional sentence if default is made in the payment of the fine.

The jury in the case of Otto Bjorklund, charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated, found him guilty as charged. William King was foreman of the jury. This is an appealed case from the municipal court of Crosby, where Bjorklund was found guilty and sentenced to 60 days in jail. W. B. Cook, village attorney of Crosby, prosecuted the case, and C. L. Benedict was attorney for Bjorklund.

Frank Ascher, who plead not guilty to a charge of selling liquor during the earlier part of this term, changed his plea to guilty Tuesday morning. The court fined him $200 and 60 days in the county jail, with an additional 60 days sentence if default is made in payment of the fine.

It is planned to adjourn court this week and hold an adjourned term after the holidays, probably opening on January 2nd. A new venire of 36 jurors is being drawn for this adjourned term. Judge W. S. McClenahan goes to Walker to hold court on December 11th.

The case of the Duluth Log Co., against the O'Brien Mercantile Co., is set for trial at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning.

EVENING SCHOOL RESPONSES LIGHT

Only 8 Out of 40 Prospective Candidates Reply to Circular Letter Mailed

HOPED MORE WILL ANSWER

Public Schools Gratefully Acknowledge Gifts Received From Public Spirited Citizens

(By W. C. Cobb, Superintendent of Schools)

Up to the present time, eight responses have been received by the Superintendent of schools, indicating a desire to take evening class work in preparation for citizenship or naturalization. These replies have come in as a result of a circular letter sent to forty prospective candidates, asking if they would be interested in such a class, in case opportunity were given. It is hoped that extended publicity may be given to these notices and that all, who are looking forward toward ultimate citizenship, may send in their names at once to the Superintendent, W. C. Cobb, with address and occupation, so that information as to the probable number desiring such work may be secured at once.

If a number sufficient to warrant the starting of a class, such class will probably met on two or three evenings each week and for about a two hour session.

The schools wish to acknowledge gifts during the last few weeks from several public spirited citizens. Rev. Walenta donated some very excellent pictures and books to the Whittier school and a valuable piece of statuary to the high school department. Mrs. W. H. Gemmell donated a valuable set of encyclopedias, practically unused, to the high school. Such gifts to the public institutions in Brainerd have been becoming more common in recent years and indicate an increase in public spirit, which is desirable in every community. Such institutions as the public library, the public schools, and other organizations, that serve a large body of citizens, can often make a wider use of certain articles than would be possible in any other way, and thoughtful people are coming more and more to recognize this fact and govern themselves accordingly.

The entertainment of the Rotarians last Friday by the domestic science department during the luncheon hour was a very happy event all around, gave the girls some very valuable experience in serving to a large number, gave a group of high school studentss an opportunity to display their musical and public speaking talent before an audience of adults, and incidentally netted the domestic science department a comfortable sum of money with which to purchase china, silverware, or linen for their department.

Each of the ward school libraries have received or will receive very shortly their annual addition of new books from the proceeds of state aid provided for this purpose. The grade libraries of the schools are increasing from year to year, as the new purchases exceed the worn out books. We now have in the larger grade buildings libraries of nearly one thousand volumes each of very carefully selected books, and these books are in almost constant use during the school year.

The schools, in its effort to bring about, as far as it may be able, a due respect for law and order on the part of the children invite the cooperation of parents in dealing with the problem of children.

In the schools are representatives of all classes of society found in the community and there are bound to be some infraction of the law by pupils attending school in both grades and high school. The teachers in both grades and high school will try to do all in their power to be alert and to cooperate with parents and city authorities to reduce law violation to the minimum. However, with more than two thousand children to deal with, there will be at times a certain number of extreme cases of youthful delinquency.

The city authorities are cooperating closely with the school and if parents will likewise cooperate it will greatly assist in the dealing with a difficult problem.

Miss Selina Molstad Read "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals"

At the B. P. W. drama club Monday night, Miss Selina Molstad read Barries "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals," one of his typical charming studies of an old charwoman in London who adopts a soldier from a newspaper account and most unexpectedly has him turn up at her lodging to adopt her.

She gave very well Barrie's gentle humor, and depicted the various types of old ladies and their intense zeal in the fortunes of war and the latest styles. This old lady has no son, has never been married, but here she passes for both mother and wife, and after the war, though the boy has died an heroic death, has his medals to comfort her, always.

POULTRY SHOW OPENS WEDNESDAY

Number of Entries Coming in Are Most Gratifying to Management

PLAN MANY INNOVATIONS

In Addition to Fine Programs There Will Be Interesting Talks by Experts

The Crow Wing county annual poultry show opens Wednesday under the most favorable prospects in several years. The number of entries that have come in are most gratifying, and it is believed that this will be the largest showing of fine poultry ever held in the county.

An innovation at this show will be a family of star black skunks, that are to be on exhibit Wednesday only, by the North Star Fur Ranch of Deerwood. It is explained that they are semi-hibernating animals, and cannot properly be moved for any great length of time at this season of the year. These skunks are perfectly harmless, it is said, and their presence should attract rather than repel a large audience.

In addition to the fine exhibits, there will be excellent programs staged on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, from 2 to 4 o'clock in conjunction with the show. These programs will be instructive as well as entertaining, with addresses on subjects pertinent to poultry raisers and interspersed with musical numbers.

O. M. Wanvig, of the First Nationl bank of Deerwood, and a very capable speaker, will open the Wednesday afternoon program with a talk on "The Possibilities of Fur Farming in Crow Wing County." W. J. Corwin, of the state egg marketing committee, will address the meeting on the subject, "Profitable Egg Marketing."

Senator Chris Rosenmeier has promised to be present and speak on "True Co-operation." County Agent E. G. Roth will discuss "Poultry Raising in Crow Wing County."

On Thursday afternoon A. J. Hayes of the Brainerd Rotary club, will give an address on "Poultry for Profit." Mr. Hayes has always shown a keen interest in the poultry industry and will introduce some arguments that will be worth much to local breeders.

Poultry raising from a woman's point of view will be of special interest to those attending the show, especially when that woman is a very successful raiser. Mrs. S. S. Rood, of Rabbit Lake, will speak on "My Experience with Poultry." Mrs. Rood is a real business woman, and has kept accurate account of all receipts and expenditures in connection with her poultry raising.

"Brooding of Baby Chicks and Winter Egg Production," will be discussed by Clifford Street, manager of the poultry department of Clover Crest Farm, St. Paul. Both subjects are of interest to local breeders and will be heard by a large audience. The male quartet from the Brainerd Lions club will furnish the musical portion of this program.

The committee in charge of these programs is composed of R. S. Wilcox, Chairman; V. E. Hitch and County Agent Roth.

The poultry show is to be held at the Gardner auditorium, with doors open morning, afternoon and evening.

Because of the disturbances made by the poultry on exhibit, it has been decided to hold the programs on Wednesday and Thursday in the farmers room at the court house.

When the Sisters of St. Joseph's hospital appealed to the public for donations of money, eatables, clothing, etc., to be used in caring for the many charitable cases which that institution attends to, the response was most gratifying and the public showed its interest and Thanksgiving spirit in the generous response made.

The Sisters are very grateful to all who gave freely and wish in this manner, through the medium of the Dispatch, to express their hearty thanks.

Kellogg's Bran is nature's relief from the terrors of constipation!

Never make light of constipation or any one of its symptoms—there is no telling what disease you may be heading into! The one thing to do—IMMEDIATELY—is to fight constipation to the last ditch! Not with pills or cathartics; they cannot give you lasting relief! Not with foods with a low bran content; they do not have the bran-bulk to do the work!

What you need, what will give you permanent relief is Kellogg's Bran because it is ALL BRAN! Kellogg's is scientifically prepared to relieve constipation. It will relieve the chronic case or the mild case. You need it, your family needs it!

But, you must eat Kellogg's Bran regularly—each day! At least two tablespoonfuls; in chronic cases this amount with each meal! And, eating Kellogg's Bran is a delight rather than a hardship. It has a delicious, appealing nut-like flavor that wins the most fastidious appetite.

Every day when you eat Kellogg's Bran as a cereal, sprinkled on your favorite hot or cold cereal or cooked or mixed with hot cereals, think of the health every spoonful contains for you! Think how Kellogg's Bran is sweeping and cleansing the alimentary tract; how it is driving out the toxic poisons and freeing your system from dangers of dreaded diseases! Your physician will recommend it.

Kellogg's Bran is extra-delicious made into countless bakery batches. Recipes on every package.

All grocers sell Kellogg's Bran; it is also obtainable at first-class hotels and clubs in individual packages. Ask for it at your restaurant.

Kellogg's Bran is nature's relief from the terrors of constipation!

Never make light of constipation or any one of its symptoms—there is no telling what disease you may be heading into! The one thing to do—IMMEDIATELY—is to fight constipation to the last ditch! Not with pills or cathartics; they cannot give you lasting relief! Not with foods with a low bran content; they do not have the bran-bulk to do the work!

What you need, what will give you permanent relief is Kellogg's Bran because it is ALL BRAN! Kellogg's is scientifically prepared to relieve constipation. It will relieve the chronic case or the mild case. You need it, your family needs it!

But, you must eat Kellogg's Bran regularly—each day! At least two tablespoonfuls; in chronic cases this amount with each meal! And, eating Kellogg's Bran is a delight rather than a hardship. It has a delicious, appealing nut-like flavor that wins the most fastidious appetite.

Every day when you eat Kellogg's Bran as a cereal, sprinkled on your favorite hot or cold cereal or cooked or mixed with hot cereals, think of the health every spoonful contains for you! Think how Kellogg's Bran is sweeping and cleansing the alimentary tract; how it is driving out the toxic poisons and freeing your system from dangers of dreaded diseases! Your physician will recommend it.

Kellogg's Bran is extra-delicious made into countless bakery batches. Recipes on every package.

All grocers sell Kellogg's Bran; it is also obtainable at first-class hotels and clubs in individual packages. Ask for it at your restaurant.

POULTRY SHOW OPENS TOMORROW

THE Crow Wing county annual poultry show opens tomorrow at Gardner auditorium. It is the third to be given by this association and judged by the number of exhibits arriving, the programs arranged and the general interest taken in this most worthy project, will be the most successful show ever held in the history of the association.

Experts will discuss the poultry business, taking up every angle o fthis subject. Banks of the city are taking an interest in the show, one of the leading bankers being on the program for a talk on "Poultry for Profit."

Business men, as is their custom, like to see an industry produce a surplus over and above mere operating expenses and their wish will be gratified when they assemble to hear the talk given by Mrs. S. S. Rood of Rabbit Lake, who in her experience with poultry has kept account of all her receipts and expenditures and at the end of the year has a most comfortable balance, or shall we say "nest egg," on the right side of the ledger.

The officers of the poultry show know they have a good show and a good cause. The exhibitors have sent the best of their flocks. The speakers have talks all pertinent to the subject.

What else is required? It is attendance. Town and countryside should attend, see the wealth of display and thereby get an idea of the true meaning of poultry raising and the value of this industry to any community.

THE BEST PEACE PLAN

WHAT do you think is the best plan for the promotion of peace?

Who will win the Bok peace prize?

The latter's peace prize offer has caused a lot of study and formulation of plans for the elimination of war. It is said 22,000 schemes have been submitted.

President Harding's suggestion for universal conscription of both men and property in time of war seems to many to be the best and simplest plan broached.

He sensed the domestic evils of the world war and suggested a remedy for them in possible future conflicts, but also as an influence to prevent wars altogether. He first gave expression to the policy in his inaugural address and later enlarged upon it in a speech made on his western trip. At Butte, Montana, he said:

"Viewed in the retrospect we see more clearly than ever the sordid side of war. I have said before, and I choose to repeat it very deliberately now, that if war must come again—God grant that it shall not!—then we must draft all of the nation in carrying on. It is not enough to draft the young manhood. It is not enough to accept the voluntary service of both women and men whose patriotic devotion impels their enlistment. It will be righteous and just, it will be more effective in war and marked by less regret in the aftermath, if we draft all of capital, all of industry, all of agriculture, all of commerce, all of talent and capacity and energy of every description to make the supreme and united and unselfish fight for the national triumph. When we do that there will be less of war. When we do that the contest will be aglow with unsullied patriotism, untouched by profiteering in any service."

WHAT IS SUCCESS?

"What is Success?"

It's the title of the leading article in the "American" for December and is written by H. G. Wells.

He sums it up:

"Wealth, notoriety, place and power are no measure of success whatever. The only true measure of success is the ratio between what we might have done and what we might have been, on the one hand, and the thing we have made, and the thing we have made of ourselves, on the other.'

The article is most interesting and one gains an idea of what he considers a measure of success by considering that he regards as successful men such examples as Lincoln, Jesus, Lord Bacon, Shakespeare, Sir Christopher Wren, Shelley, Edgar Allen Poe, Charles Darwin. He cites Northcliffe, George and Napoleon as doing nothing but sprawling across the attention of mankind.

BRAINERD'S NEW FOUNDRY

BRAINERD welcomes a new manufacturing institution in this community, the foundry of the Brainerd Foundry company. It is officered and conducted by Brainerd men of experience in foundry work including Clyde E. Parker as its president and treasurer, E. O. Webb vice president and H. E. Kinsmiller secretary and general manager.

The foundry company has a large field in which to operate. It has equipped its plant to adequately care for business and to produce foundry products of merit.

It is quite a coincidence that the first castings made were for another large and thriving industry of Brainerd, The Northwest Paper company, stokers to be used in the paper mill.

There is a promising future for this company. The nearest foundries competing are Cloquet on the east, St. Cloud on the south and Detroit on the west.

AIDING THE VETERANS

CONTRARY to the general impression that very little has been done for World war veterans, both disabled and able-bodied, an official compilation made by the United States government shows that $2,112,293,644.19 have been expended.

This sum includes all money actually paid out by the government for the benefit of World war veterans and their families. It does not include in any item any money paid by veterans for themselves for such purposes. The sum total also does not include compensation paid soldiers during service, the cost of their upkeep, or the $60 bonus paid them in February, 1920.

A COURSE in Boy Scout study is effective in many ways. We know of many boys who have been made honest and manly little fellows and given a purpose in life.

BRAINERD BOYS BAND REHEARSING

Steady Practice is Rounding It Out Into a Good Musical Organization

APPEARANCES IN PUBLIC

First at Lions Club, Then Farm Bureau and Wednesday and Thursday at Lyceum Theatre

Although little has been heard of the Brainerd boys band of late, still that organization is very much on the map, and with rehearsals regularly each week, is rapidly rounding out into a good musical organization.

Only two appearances have been made in public, one at a meeting of the local Lions club, which association sponsored the band, and is acting as its god-father, and the other at a Farm Bureau meeting north of the city.

It is felt that the band has now progressed to the point where its public appearance in the city will be much appreciated, and accordingly Manager W. R. Hiller, of the Lyceum theatre, has offered to show the band at his theatre on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, between the two shows.

Prof. Hugo Pflock, director of the band, has promised a surprise for all who hear the concerts on these evenings, for he states that the organization has made more rapidly progress than most citizens realize.

The people of this vicinity will welcome an opportunity to hear this youthful association of musicians, and welcome them in their first appearance in concert work.

Mr. Hiller states that he will invite the Lions club to attend this concert as his guests on Wednesday evening, following the regular weekly luncheon of that body.

EXCEPTIONAL OFFERING

4 Acts of Vaudeville and Pictures Now Regular Program Friday's at New Park

Exceptionally good houses greeted the vaudeville program at the New Park theatre on Friday evening, and witnessed a bill of a much higher calibre than is usually shown outside of the larger cities.

Neil McCrea, booked as the one-man circus was first on the program. He took all of the parts of the various characters usually seen in a circus, including the "barker" in front of the side show, the ringmaster, with his trained elephants and charming dancing girls, and finally the difficult part of one of the actors, giving a very good balancing exhibition.

Carl Currier and Harry McWilliams were second on the program, billed as "Just Two Boys." Their line of patter and songs were out of the ordinary, and kept the audience in a continual uproar. They introduced several dancing novelties and saxaphone playing that was very creditable.

Demure, Null and Void lived up to their cognomens excellently. The first was a demure little Miss, the other two, men in tramp makeup, and the ensemble, in the language of the theatre, was "a scream." The comedy furnished by this trio was new and original, taking well with the audience.

Closing the vaudeville program were three feminine charmers in the Elliot-Johnson revue. This act was indeed a novelty in singing and dancing numbers, with brilliant costuming and clever stage work. One of the young ladies was an excellent male impersonator, but was handicapped somewhat with a severe cold.

"The Brass Bottle," a feature picture, completed the bill, which brought forth many favorable comments from Brainerd theatre goers.

The New Park will continue the extended vaudeville bills each Friday, matinee and evening, during the coming season, with the promise that each will be of the same high quality as was last Friday's program.

STREET NAMING BEFORE COUNCIL

General Discussion Took Place, Postmaster Adams Referring to Department Stand on "Letter" Names

INSTRUCTIONS TO CITY ATTY.

Council Declines to Take Any Action Regarding a New Power Contract

W. J. Hall, representing a special committee from the Civic and Commerce Association, appeared before the city council at its regular meeting on Monday night, and requested that the matter of renaming the streets of Northeast Brainerd be deferred until such a time as the renaming of all streets in the city could be taken up.

A general discussion of this matter took place, in which Postmaster Carl Adams told of the objections of the post office department to the naming of streets by letters of the alphabet, stating that more or less confusion had been caused in cities where this plan had been adopted.

On motion the city attorney was instructed to take any steps necessary in the renaming of the streets in Northeast Brainerd according to the following system which was adopted by the council:

Gillis Avenue, First, Second, Third and Fourth Avenues are to remain as they are at present named. First street is to be renamed League Avenue, Fifth Avenue is to include the street now known by that name, one known as Second street and also Fifth avene in Schwartz's addition.

Third street in the Haines addition and Sixth avenue in the Schwartz addition, to be renamed Sixth avenue. Fourth street in the Haines addition and Seventh avenue, to be named Seventh Avenue, and Mill street to be named Mill avenue.

Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets are to be known as the same numbered avenues.

Beginning at Kindred street and following with all streets north that run east and west, letters of the alphabet will be used. Kindred street will be known as "A" street, Farrar street as "B" street, Forsythe street as "C" street and Pine street as "D" street.

Prescott and Oak streets will be named "E" street, Myrtle and Maple streets will be known as "F" street, Pearl and Elm streets, as "G" street. Ash avenue will be renamed "H" street, Rosabel and Pascal avenues, as "I" street.

Kinsey and Firman avenues will be renamed "J" street, Quincey avenue, "K" street, and Washington avenue as "L" street. Schwartz and Woodward avenues as "M" street, Whiteley avenue as "N" street, Lake avenue as "O" street, Elder street as "P" street and Walker street as "Q" street.

Fire Insurance Rates

Dr. R. A. Beise addressed the council, as chairman of a committee from the Civic and Commerce Association, in regard to fire insurance rates in Brainerd. He stated that the city is now in the 4th class, but could be changed to one of the 3½ class, which would reduce premiums that now run as high as 9 per cent to an average of 4 per cent.

To do this, Dr. Beise pointed out that a line pressure of 85 pounds would have to be maintained and also two hose trucks, instead of one as is now used. The additional truck, however, would not necessarily have to be as large or expensive as the present truck. It would be necessary also to add more ladder equipment and other minor pieces of fire-fighting apparatus, such as a small chemical, and to have a man for each truck and ladder wagon, thus keeping three men on duty during the day instead of one as at present.

On motion this matter was referred to the fire, light and water committee to investigate and report back to the council, and also to cooperate with the committee from the Civic and Commerce Association.

Municipal Skating Rink

Carl Wright, representing the park board made a talk on a municipal skating rink, similar to the rink maintained last winter. Alderman C. H. Paine offered a resolution on this matter and moved its adoption, which when put to a vote was unanimously adopted. The resolution recommends that a portion of South Tenth street between Laurel and Norwood, and a portion of Maple street between South 9th and Bluff, be used as a public rink, under the direction and supervision of the park board and under proper conditions.

The land so designated is to be reserved for skating rink purposes between the dates of December 15th and April 1st. On motion $225 will be transferred from the general fund to the park fund for paying the salary of a caretaker at the rink for a three-month period at $75 per month.

New Power Contract

Mayor Con O'Brien addressed the council on the subject of a new power contract between the city and the Cuyuna Range Power Co. Other speakers on this matter were J. P. Anderson, S. R. Adair and W. D. McKay. The city attorney explained both the new proposed contract and the one under which the city is now operating. The council declined to take any action on the matter.

The fire, light and water committee, in its report, recommended that the city retain its present contract and that no new contract be entered into.

The Plumbing Industry

The city attorney recommended an amendment to the city ordinances regarding the government of the plumbing industry, to modernize the ordinances now in use or to strike them out altogether and draft new ones. On motion the matter was referred to the city attorney, city engineer, who are to meet with F. H. Gruenhagen and a committee of local plumbers to draw up a new ordinance.

Milk Licenses

Requests were granted for milk licenses to the following dairies: Ed Engle, Charles Erickson, H. C. Nubbe, John Wolf, Andrew Anderson, Matt Hay, I. J. Storstad, Mrs. H. Hendrickson, J. M. Hayes and Z. Fremling.

An additional bond from the Commercial State Bank, for $2,500 was offered as an indemnity bond to be added to the Liberty bonds already tendered, and a bond of $15,000 on behalf of the Brainerd State Bank. On motion, these bonds were accepted.

A taxi license was ordered issued to William H. Nelson. On motion Mrs. Holmitz was granted a load of wood.

Sprinkling Assessment Roll

The city engineer presented a sprinkling assessment roll and on motion it was ordered spread on the assessment for the coming year, as was also an assessment for curbing on South Fifth street, amounting to $1.40 per front foot.

The street and sewer committee reported that cinders have been placed on the street skirting the west side of the N. P. shop fence at a cost of $48.40, improving the surface of this street materially. Fifty dollars had been voted at a previous council meeting for this purpose.

Mushroom Lights at Street Intersections

The matter of installing mushroom lights at street intersections in the downtown districts was referred to the city engineer to report at the next meeting. The property committee recommended that a charge of $25 per month be made for the rooms in the city hall occupied by the state highway department.

On recommendation of the fire, light and water committee, the ornamental lights were ordered cared for by the Water and Light Board.

Audit of City Accounts

President Michael reported that the audit of the city's accounts was nearing completion, and recommended that a change in the city's system of bookkeeping be made and a new system installed in its place. On motion, Preston and Co., who have charge of the audit now being made, was employed to make this change. The city clerk was empowered to employ Mrs. S. C. Nelson as an assistant during the period of the audit.

The usual bills were allowed subject to the approval of the purchasing committee. All members of the council were present at this meeting.

FISH HATCHERY NEAR GULL LAKE

Superintendent of Fisheries and Chief Game Warden Confer With Local Game Warden

HATCHERY TO BE BUILT SOON

Exact Location Cannot be Ascertained Until Definite Surveys Are Made

Thaddeus Surber, superintendent of fisheries of the state game and fish department, St. Paul, in company with D. A. Peterson, chief game warden, were in Brainerd Monday afternoon, and conferred with the local game warden, A. P. Cardle, in regard to the proposed state fish hatchery which sportsmen of this community have been working for and recommending for some time.

The visiting officials promised Mr. Cardle that this hatchery will be built during the coming summer, a fact that will be very good news to local people. The exact location of the hatchery cannot be stated at this time, a survey of the proposed sites being first necessary.

It is definitely settled, however, that the hatchery will be located below the government dam at Gull lake, which has been for a number of years a natural spawning place for several kinds of fish.

This hatchery means much to Brainerd and the surrounding lake region, says Mr. Cardle. Pike, bass and other game fish, the product of the hatchery, will be used to stock the lakes in this territory. Heretofore it has been necessary to ship the fry from distant hatcheries, which made the plantings limited and infrequent.

The state fish and game department has been exceptionally courteous to the requests of local sportsmen, and have showed an unusual interest in the proposition of a hatchery at Gull lake, and interest that is very much appreciated.

LITTLE FALLS LIONS GUESTS LOCAL CLUB

Fifteen members of the Little Falls Lions club went to Brainerd Wednesday evening where they were guests of the Brainerd Lions club. A turkey dinner was served at the Ransford hotel, following which the Lions enjoyed a program of speeches and musical selections. The party was almost broken up during its midst when a Brainerd "ossifer of the law" entered the dining room and placed Jos. Moeglein "under arrest" for parking his automobile in front of a fire hydrant. The situation was cleared, however, when Stephen Simonet advanced the argument that the charge was unfounded since he did not believe Brainerd had fire hydrants.

Archie Olson and D. K. Steuart accompanied the Little Falls delegation and entertained the assemblage with a number of piano, banjo and vocal numbers.—Little Falls Daily Transcript.

STREET NAMING BEFORE COUNCIL

General Discussion Took Place, Postmaster Adams Referring to Department Stand on "Letter" Names

INSTRUCTIONS TO CITY ATTY.

Council Declines to Take Any Action Regarding a New Power Contract

W. J. Hall, representing a special committee from the Civic and Commerce Association, appeared before the city council at its regular meeting on Monday night, and requested that the matter of renaming the streets of Northeast Brainerd be deferred until such a time as the renaming of all streets in the city could be taken up.

A general discussion of this matter took place, in which Postmaster Carl Adams told of the objections of the post office department to the naming of streets by letters of the alphabet, stating that more or less confusion had been caused in cities where this plan had been adopted.

On motion the city attorney was instructed to take any steps necessary in the renaming of the streets in Northeast Brainerd according to the following system which was adopted by the council:

Gillis Avenue, First, Second, Third and Fourth Avenues are to remain as they are at present named. First street is to be renamed League Avenue, Fifth Avenue is to include the street now known by that name, one known as Second street and also Fifth avene in Schwartz's addition.

Third street in the Haines addition and Sixth avenue in the Schwartz addition, to be renamed Sixth avenue. Fourth street in the Haines addition and Seventh avenue, to be named Seventh Avenue, and Mill street to be named Mill avenue.

Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets are to be known as the same numbered avenues.

Beginning at Kindred street and following with all streets north that run east and west, letters of the alphabet will be used. Kindred street will be known as "A" street, Farrar street as "B" street, Forsythe street as "C" street and Pine street as "D" street.

Prescott and Oak streets will be named "E" street, Myrtle and Maple streets will be known as "F" street, Pearl and Elm streets, as "G" street. Ash avenue will be renamed "H" street, Rosabel and Pascal avenues, as "I" street.

Kinsey and Firman avenues will be renamed "J" street, Quincey avenue, "K" street, and Washington avenue as "L" street. Schwartz and Woodward avenues as "M" street, Whiteley avenue as "N" street, Lake avenue as "O" street, Elder street as "P" street and Walker street as "Q" street.

Fire Insurance Rates

Dr. R. A. Beise addressed the council, as chairman of a committee from the Civic and Commerce Association, in regard to fire insurance rates in Brainerd. He stated that the city is now in the 4th class, but could be changed to one of the 3½ class, which would reduce premiums that now run as high as 9 per cent to an average of 4 per cent.

To do this, Dr. Beise pointed out that a line pressure of 85 pounds would have to be maintained and also two hose trucks, instead of one as is now used. The additional truck, however, would not necessarily have to be as large or expensive as the present truck. It would be necessary also to add more ladder equipment and other minor pieces of fire-fighting apparatus, such as a small chemical, and to have a man for each truck and ladder wagon, thus keeping three men on duty during the day instead of one as at present.

On motion this matter was referred to the fire, light and water committee to investigate and report back to the council, and also to cooperate with the committee from the Civic and Commerce Association.

Municipal Skating Rink

Carl Wright, representing the park board made a talk on a municipal skating rink, similar to the rink maintained last winter. Alderman C. H. Paine offered a resolution on this matter and moved its adoption, which when put to a vote was unanimously adopted. The resolution recommends that a portion of South Tenth street between Laurel and Norwood, and a portion of Maple street between South 9th and Bluff, be used as a public rink, under the direction and supervision of the park board and under proper conditions.

The land so designated is to be reserved for skating rink purposes between the dates of December 15th and April 1st. On motion $225 will be transferred from the general fund to the park fund for paying the salary of a caretaker at the rink for a three-month period at $75 per month.

New Power Contract

Mayor Con O'Brien addressed the council on the subject of a new power contract between the city and the Cuyuna Range Power Co. Other speakers on this matter were J. P. Anderson, S. R. Adair and W. D. McKay. The city attorney explained both the new proposed contract and the one under which the city is now operating. The council declined to take any action on the matter. The fire, light and water committee, in its report, recommended that the city retain its present contract and that no new contract be entered into.

The Plumbing Industry

The city attorney recommended an amendment to the city ordinances regarding the government of the plumbing industry, to modernize the ordinances now in use or to strike them out altogether and draft new ones. On motion the matter was referred to the city attorney, city engineer, who are to meet with F. H. Gruenhagen and a committee of local plumbers to draw up a new ordinance.

Milk Licenses

Requests were granted for milk licenses to the following dairies: Ed Engle, Charles Erickson, H. C. Nubbe, John Wolf, Andrew Anderson, Matt Hay, I. J. Storstad, Mrs. H. Hendrickson, J. M. Hayes and Z. Fremling.

An additional bond from the Commercial State Bank, for $2,500 was offered as an indemnity bond to be added to the Liberty bonds already tendered, and a bond of $15,000 on benaif of the Brainerd State Bank. On motion, these bonds were accepted.

A taxi license was ordered issued to William H. Nelson. On motion Mrs. Holmitz was granted a load of wood.

The city engineer presented a sprinkling assessment roll and on motion it was ordered spread on the assessment for the coming year, as was also an assessment for curbing on South Fifth street, amounting to $1.40 per front foot.

PICTURES DON'T ALWAYS TELL THE TRUTH

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Dec. 4.—Pictures snapped by photographers at the finish of the Zev-In Memoriam race at Louisville recently were brought into the controversy that followed the race.

It was a very close finish. Some thought it was a dead heat. Others expressed the belief that In Memoriam had won. The judges gave it to Zev. One set of pictures showed In Memoriam winning and another set depicted a dead heat.

But, as we said, the judges declared Zev the winner. Their position at the finish line was picked because it was the best point from which to get an accurate optical flash of the positions of the horses as they nosed across the line.

Pictures are not infallible in registering the actual result of fast action. They are not at all accurate, and in some case they are almost opposed to what really happened.

"Still" pictures are not accurate, and movies are highly erratic.

Anticipating that some close finishes in the sprint events at the Antwerp Olympic games in 1920 might cause some argument, the Belgian committee arranged to have the finish of the final events snapped by the best "still" and movie cameras that could be obtained in Europe. German lenses and cameras at that time were said to be the best available and they were used by skilled photographers.

The results were far from satisfactory. There was a lengthy controversy about the finish of the 100-meters dash. Some thought that Scholz, the American, had finished third; Edwards, the colored English sprinter, fourth, and Ali-Khan, the French colonial, fifth.

The pictures made it appear that Edwards had finished first, Paddock second and Kirksey third. Paddock to the naked eye, was first by a clear margin, with Kirksey second. Scholz looked like he was third, but the judges placed him fifth, behind Edwards and Ali-Khan. The decision was protested and in the final ruling, Scholz was placed fourth with Edwards third.

Checking up other pictures on finishes in which the actual result was not in doubt, the pictures were found so inaccurate that their use was discontinued.

Morosco Answers Picture Knockers with "Slippy McGee"

Who's doing the most talking now regarding motion pictures — those who see them or those who don't? Oliver Morosco, who has observed popular waves before in his score and more years as one of the country's foremost producers, believes it is the "don'ter."

Morosco's suggestion in the present situation is to bring those who are talking the loudest into the theatres. He believes acutal contact will do much to silence the persons whose popular sport is to stay at home and "pan the movies."

"If it were possible," says the veteran producer who, besides operating his large theatrical interests also is picturizing his stage successes, "I would like to have every person opposed to pictures see our latest production, 'Slippy McGee.' I believe it would change their viewpoint. They would find out that pictures are good!

"Slippy McGee," the First National attraction to which Mr. Morosco refers, will be the feature at the New Park Theatre for two days, commencing Wednesday afternoon.

Vaudeville At New Park Wednesday and Thursday—Dunn and Turner

The New Park will present as the vaudeville specialty act on Wednesday and Thursday Dunn and Turner, high brow syncopators singing, dancnig and playing the banjo. This act will be presented with the double picture program, "Slippy McGee" and Buster Keaton in "The Blacksmith."

Jack Holt Writes to Fans

Jack Holt has written, for publication, a letter to motion picture fans. It follows:

"Dear Friends: If you happen to live in Oshkosh or some other town and there is no zoo for you to visit and see the animals, don't worry.

"Have patience. Then, when The Tiger's Claw, a Paramount Picture in which I am starring, strikes your town, go to see it. You will see almost as many animals as you would in a circus. The picture is laid in India and some of the actors include a pair of Bengal tigers, a cheetah, several mammoth elephants, a lion, a lioness, two bears, a leopard and a great number of domesticated animals, such as horses, dogs and cats.

"Sincerely, your friend, Jack Holt."

The letter tells the story. "The Tiger's Claw" will be the feature at the Lyceum Theatre on Wednesdya and Thursday. Don't miss it.

BILLY GIBSON IS TO MANAGE FIRPO

New York, Dec. 4. — Luis Angel Firpo, South American heavyweight champion, will be handled during his 1924 campaign by Billy Gibson, manager for Benny Leonard, the lightweight champion, and Gene Tunney, the American light heavyweight champion, according to information from a good authority.

Wants Yankee Pilot

It was learned some time back that Firpo had decided that he could trust some of the Americans and that he had made up his mind to get a good experienced business man to take care of his affairs.

Last summer Firpo had several talks with Leonard and it was understood he told the lightweight champion he would not object to having a few lessons from him on boxing.

Leonard, it is understood, said he would be willing to do what he could for Firpo, but he suggested that his trainer, Mannie Seamon, would be more valuable as a tutor.

Arrangements, it is learned, have been practically completed whereby Firpo will join the Gibson stable and that Leonard and Seamon will work with the big Argentine to prepare him for his return battle with Jack Dempsey.

ASHES to ASHES

Consider the ash pile.

You know the one we mean—the one that clutters up the basement and the back-yard every spring.

The same ash pile that Father looks at, notes its size, remembers a winter of shoveling ashes, and resolves to see another coal dealer for next fall's order.

Eliminate the ash pile from your next load of coal.

Consolidation Elkhorn Coal and Zeigler Nut, by actual laboratory tests, contain less ash than any other high-grade coals. It will reach you absolutely free from impurities and dirt—not a piece of slate, bone or rock in an entire carload—95% pure coal.

Consolidation Elkhorn and Zeigler Nut are practically ashless—less than a bushel to a ton—no clinkers, and so low in sulphur content that even screenings cannot fire from spontaneous combustion.

Your order placed with us for either hard or soft coal will be handled promptly and properly.

PICTURES DON'T ALWAYS TELL THE TRUTH

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Dec. 4.—Pictures snapped by photographers at the finish of the Zev-In Memoriam race at Louisville recently were brought into the controversy that followed the race.

It was a very close finish. Some thought it was a dead heat. Others expressed the belief that In Memoriam had won. The judges gave it to Zev. One set of pictures showed In Memoriam winning and another set depicted a dead heat.

But, as we said, the judges declared Zev the winner. Their position at the finish line was picked because it was the best point from which to get an accurate optical flash of the positions of the horses as they nosed across the line.

Pictures are not infallible in registering the actual result of fast action. They are not at all accurate, and in some case they are almost opposed to what really happened.

"Still" pictures are not accurate, and movies are highly erratic.

Anticipating that some close finishes in the sprint events at the Antwerp Olympic games in 1920 might cause some argument, the Belgian committee arranged to have the finish of the final events snapped by the best "still" and movie cameras that could be obtained in Europe. German lenses and cameras at that time were said to be the best available and they were used by skilled photographers.

The results were far from satisfactory. There was a lengthy controversy about the finish of the 100-meters dash. Some thought that Scholz, the American, had finished third; Edwards, the colored English sprinter, fourth, and Ali-Khan, the French colonial, fifth.

The pictures made it appear that Edwards had finished first, Paddock second and Kirksey third. Paddock to the naked eye, was first by a clear margin, with Kirksey second. Scholz looked like he was third, but the judges placed him fifth, behind Edwards and Ali-Khan. The decision was protested and in the final ruling, Scholz was placed fourth with Edwards third.

Checking up other pictures on finishes in which the actual result was not in doubt, the pictures were found so inaccurate that their use was discontinued.

Morosco Answers Picture Knockers with "Slippy McGee"

Who's doing the most talking now regarding motion pictures — those who see them or those who don't? Oliver Morosco, who has observed popular waves before in his score and more years as one of the country's foremost producers, believes it is the "don'ter."

Morosco's suggestion in the present situation is to bring those who are talking the loudest into the theatres. He believes acutal contact will do much to silence the persons whose popular sport is to stay at home and "pan the movies."

"If it were possible," says the veteran producer who, besides operating his large theatrical interests also is picturizing his stage successes, "I would like to have every person opposed to pictures see our latest production, 'Slippy McGee.' I believe it would change their viewpoint. They would find out that pictures are good!

Colleen Moore in "Slippy McGee"

"Slippy McGee," the First National attraction to which Mr. Morosco refers, will be the feature at the New Park Theatre for two days, commencing Wednesday afternoon.

Vaudeville At New Park Wednesday and Thursday—Dunn and Turner

The New Park will present as the vaudeville specialty act on Wednesday and Thursday Dunn and Turner, high brow syncopators singing, dancnig and playing the banjo. This act will be presented with the double picture program, "Slippy McGee" and Buster Keaton in "The Blacksmith."

Jack Holt Writes to Fans

Jack Holt has written, for publication, a letter to motion picture fans. It follows:

"Dear Friends: If you happen to live in Oshkosh or some other town and there is no zoo for you to visit and see the animals, don't worry.

"Have patience. Then, when The Tiger's Claw, a Paramount Picture in which I am starring, strikes your town, go to see it. You will see almost as many animals as you would in a circus. The picture is laid in India and some of the actors include a pair of Bengal tigers, a cheetah, several mammoth elephants, a lion, a lioness, two bears, a leopard and a great number of domesticated animals, such as horses, dogs and cats.

"Sincerely, your friend, Jack Holt."

The letter tells the story. "The Tiger's Claw" will be the feature at the Lyceum Theatre on Wednesdya and Thursday. Don't miss it.

Priscilla Dean in "Drifting" at the Lyceum

Wm. A. Brady's famous stage success, "Drifting," by John Colton, who also wrote "Rain," is the basis of the big Universal-Jewel production of the same name, in which the great emotional actress, Priscilla Dean, is starred.

It has its last showing tonight at the Lyceum.

BETTER TRAINING BETTER POSITIONS

For the 18th time the State Agricultural College has obtained office help from Dakota Business College, Fargo, N. D. Their latest employee is Mable Fossum, hired the day she finished her D. B. C. courses. Every Fargo bank and 685 others employ "Dakota" help; so do the leading courts.

The reason is plain. Dakota Business College graduates are better trained. Isn't it common sense to attend the school that desirable employers go to for help? "Follow the Succe$$ful." Begin January 1-8. Write F. L. Watkins, Pres., 806 Front St., Fargo, N. D., TODAY.
